Zam-Buk

SAVES POISONED LIMBS!

It was just a bad ankle that might happen anyone. But it serves to show how quickly blood-poison develops unless broken tissues have the protection of antiseptic Zam-Buk.

Mrs. A. Harrison, Place-de-Armes, Kingston, Ont., writes: "During household duties my left ankle was injured by a sharp projection. Stocking dye got into the wound and its poisoned condition alarmed me. My ankle took a turn for the better, almost as soon as I began with Zam-Buk. This powerful healer dispelled all pain, suppuration and inflammation. It healed perfectly. Use Zam-Buk also for eczema, rashes, pimples, boils, abscesses, cuts, burns, scalds, etc."

Nation-Wide Fame.—There is scarcely a corner of this great Dominion where the merits of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil have not been tried and proved. It is one of the world's most efficient remedies for sore throat, lame back and many other ailments arising from inflammation. Advice For Young Mothers

—The Shaw Studio

Hamilton, Ont.—"Before the arrival of my little boy my health was very poor, my back hurt and my nerves were so upset I could not sleep. I grew very weak and miserable and suffered from morning sickness. Finally I saw Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in the drug store where I trade, so I decided to try it, and it did me a world of good. It relieved me of all distress in my back, built me up in strength and my nerves did not give me any more trouble. I got along fine the remainder of the time and I had a very strong, healthy baby. In addition to keeping a woman healthy and strong it relieves her of a certain mental strain, from which most women suffer during motherhood."—Mrs. Joseph Curto, 147 Bay St., North. (Picture above.)

Family Life On The Amazon

Returned Explorer Gives Many Interesting Facts About Natives

Dr. William McGovern, the explorer and anthropologist, who recently returned to London after spending a year on the Amazon searching for hitherto undiscovered tribes, came across natives who had only heard of white men. Some were civilized tribes with culture, and had a political and religious organization of their own. Others were so wild and primitive that they had no houses, could not even swim, dug up roots for their nourishment, and only showed themselves higher than the animals by their use of fire. Dr. McGovern says some of the natives he visited think nothing of living 200 or 300 in one huge room. The centre of the room is used as a sort of common drawing-room, and the various families live on "allotments" all round, the family allotment being big enough to contain a central fire and the necessary number of hammocks to sleep in. The staple food of the natives is the mandioc—a sort of poisonous potato from which the poison is extracted by a complicated process of evaporation.

Useful in Camp.—Explorers, surveyors, prospectors and hunters will find Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil very useful in camp. When the feet and legs are wet and cold it is well to rub them freely with the Oil and the result will be the prevention of pains in the muscles, and should a cut, or contusion, or sprain be sustained, nothing could be better as a dressing or lotion.

JOSHUA RENEWING THE COVENANT

Golden Text: Choose you this day whom ye will serve; . . . but as for me and my house, we will serve Jehovah.—Joshua 24-15.

Lesson: Joshua 24:14-25.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 107:1-9.

Explanations and Comments

1. Joshua Reminds the People of God's Help Throughout Their History, verses 1-13.—Joshua assembled the people at Shechem, sending a special summons to everyone in authority, the elders, the heads of Israel, the judges, and the officers. He began his farewell admonitions by seeking to stir their hearts with a recital of God's care and help from the time of Abraham to that present moment when they were in possession of land on which they had not labored, of cities which they had not built, of vineyards and oliveyards which they had not planted. He told all this in the form of a speech from Jehovah himself, thus stressing the fact that he and they were simply instruments of the divine will. "I give . . . I sent . . . I plagued . . . I brought . . . I gave . . . I destroyed . . . I delivered . . . I sent"; these recurring pronouns have been likened to the blows of a sledgehammer, beating the one thought into the people's hearts. It was history seen by the eye of faith. "Oh that men would praise Jehovah for his loving kindness, And for his wonderful works to the children of men!"—(Psalm).

Became So Weak, Could Hardly Stand

Mrs. Wm. Butler, Topshawk, Alta., writes: "Last spring I had a long spell of sickness and became so weak I could hardly stand. I could not sleep at night as the least little noise would wake me up. I tried blood tonics and other nerve pills, but they did me no good, and I was getting worse. I wrote my mother about my condition, and she sent me three boxes of

After the first box I was feeling much better, so I kept on until I had used the three boxes, and now I feel as well as ever I did when I was a young girl."

Manitoba Tourist Trade

Winnipeg Tourist and Convention Bureau Has an Active Season

The Winnipeg Tourist and Convention Bureau registered a number equal to 68 per cent of all the motor cars that crossed the whole of the Manitoba border from the United States, and remained for more than twenty-four hours, up to October 1st, 1926. This includes Emerson, Gretna, Killarney, Cartwright, Crystal City, Melita, Snowflake, Bannerman, Piney, Waskada, Haskett and all ports of entry. 105,710 people came across the border of Manitoba from the United States and 75,012 of them stayed less than a day, while 30,698 came in for a period ranging from two up to thirty days.

A days' stay would mean over $2,000,000.00 left in our country based on an expenditure of $18.75 per capita per day. A two day's stay would mean an expenditure of more than $4,000,000.00, while the usual average of 3 1/2 days, which is accepted by all members of the I.A.C.B. as being correct, would mean a gross expenditure of over $7,000,000.00 in Manitoba during the past season.

For the year 1926 seventy-four conventions were held in Winnipeg with an attendance of 23,600. The feature of the 1927 season, in which sixty conventions have already been booked, will be the side-trip of the Minnesota State Elks Association, who will visit Winnipeg for two days in the third week in June, 1927. Indications point to 1928 being a "Banner" year for conventions. The Norse Association of Canada, seven thousand strong and the Norwegian Singers of America, one thousand strong, already have selected Winnipeg as well as numerous others, ranging in attendance from 200 to 3,000. Winnipeg has also secured the D.O.K.K. Convention for 1929, attendance 25,000.

Empire Leaves Members Free

Reason: British Commonwealth Gets Along Without Any Friction

The paradox of the British Commonwealth is that it can only cohere by being incoherent. It will hang together while its members are free. To attempt to tie them to each other by legal bonds would dissolve the whole structure.

We live together as a system of free peoples, sprung from one root, speaking one language, recognizing one sovereignty, but at liberty to go our separate ways if we choose.

Within the limits of that necessity there is abundant room for common effort and mutual helpfulness. We can meet and discuss, as members of one family. We can clear the channels of trade and improve the Imperial lines of communication.

Above all, we can keep the air sweet and clean, the temperature warm, the atmosphere friendly. If the spirit is right, we need not fear that anything will go wrong with the works.—From John Bull, London.

Large Gold Shipment Arrives in Canada

Destination of Million Dollars in Sovereigns Not Known

Gold specie, in sovereigns, amounting to almost a million dollars, has arrived in Montreal aboard the steamship Metagama.

By a peculiar coincidence this shipment reached Montreal one year ago to a day, after the arrival of a similar type of cargo aboard the steamship Montcalm.

On this voyage the Metagama brought out forty boxes of gold coin, the amount of which is not exactly known. Judging from the contents of those boxes brought here last year on the Montcalm, each of which contained 5,000 sovereigns. It is assumed that the forty boxes on the Metagama contained 2,000,000.

Beyond the information that the specie was consigned to the Canadian Pacific Express Company, no further enlightenment could be thrown on its final destination.

empty room she got up from the sofa and went swiftly out, closing the door behind her, softly.

The landlady hovered about in the hall, Joanna nodded to her and said, "I found what I wanted. It'll be all right—some day. Remember your promise—it's to be a secret between us—that I was here. John will never miss what I took."

When her car drew up at the skyscraper Brandon was waiting. He climbed in beside her, paid his compliments, and the cabriolet sped toward the Avenue. Brandon caught one of her hands and gave it a gentle pressure.

"Do you know," he said, "you were very nice to me, last night. I was beginning to be afraid that you would never decide to accept me as one of your necessary evils."

"And you think I have made up my mind that you are not to be baffled," she challenged him. "Perhaps I have. At any rate, I'm not going to be afraid of you, but that doesn't mean that I don't know that I ought to be. But just now I am not thinking of you, but of Mr. Eggleston. I want him to like me, and I wonder why he has asked me to see him."

She was not watching him but she sensed a quick glance that took her in from head to foot. "I rather imagine," he said, "that most anyone you want to admire you, will. It may be that even your banker will lose his heart to you. Have you decided, too, upon that?"

"No," she said, very seriously as if she were considering the matter deeply; "I would never want an old man to lose his heart to me. The kind who do are always silly and wicked. And Mr. Eggleston isn't that sort. I'm dreadfully frightened of him, of the thing he knows, who gave me the money and why, but when I sit before him I feel as if there was something between us, something that isn't money. I don't know how to describe it, but it's something that makes me want to be liked by him and trusted. He doesn't seem like a banker at all. I think all the things people have always said about him, his being hard and cruel and merciless, are unjust."

"Yet I have known him to send a man to suicide by refusing his plea for a few paltry dollars to save him from bankruptcy. And I've seen him torture a woman who came to see him to ask a condescension from the bank that would have saved her from the contempt of her husband. I've known great institutions to fall overnight because he wouldn't lift his hand to save them."

"Yes," Joanna agreed. "He would do that. Just as Mr. Good Morning, the buyer in the store, sent a pretty girl to prison for stealing a pair of baby's silk socks. We girls at the counter took up a collection to pay her fine, when we heard there was really a baby the socks were intended for, but when we told Mr. Good Morning about it he snapped our heads off and threatened to fire everyone of us if we dared such a thing. But just the same her fine was paid and she got off, and I almost gave him a date when I found out that he paid out of his own pocket what he wouldn't let us pay, and charged himself with three pairs of baby's socks and a baby's silk dress besides. Some men are that way you know."

Brandon laughed, a short, insolent laugh that made Joanna hate him anew. "I would advise," he said, "that you never let your banker catch you in a hole that you needed getting out of. You would do better to depend upon—ah! I say the obvious thing?—me!"

She turned and looked at him, deliberately. "If there was a hole for me to stumble into," she said, "you'd be the very one to push me in. And you would do the pushing with a kiss!" Then she smiled brightly, at him. "Still, I'm going to be very nice to you, you know!"

Much of her reliance went out of her, however, when she stood in the centre of the massive library of Eggleston's mansion. She was a very little thing, and, she realized, a very frivolous thing, silhouetted in the great quiet room that seemed to resent the smartness and the youth of her. She wanted to talk in a whisper when Brandon came and stood near her. When her eyes in a furtive survey of the far corners of the room, fell upon the face of the girl in the gold frame over the huge fireplace, a strange sensation stole along her pulses. She wished she could hide her swagging stick. Somehow, she wished that she had left it in the cabriolet, outside.

Little Helps For This Week

Every purpose of the Lord shall be performed.—Jer. 12. 29.

At best our least endeavor
Must faint and fall forever.
Without God's guiding finger to point
The how or where;
Then let us choose His choosing,
All selfish choice refusing.
Nor question which is better to serve
Him here or there.
—Margaret J. Preston

To wish to serve Him in one place rather than in another, by such and such a way, and not by the opposite one, is to wish to serve Him in our own way and not in His. But to be equally ready for all things, to accept everything and reject nothing, to leave one's self like a toy in the hands of Providence, this is serving Him by renouncing self, this is treating Him truly as God, and ourselves as creatures made only by Him.

"I know that Mr. John will have nothing to say about the likes of you paying his rooms a visit whenever you wants."

"But that is what you must help me about," Joanna announced. "I don't want him to know that I have been here. You must make a little plot with me not to tell him. If you say that you won't, I know I may trust you."

As to this the landlady was not at all sure. Her watery, shrewd eyes narrowed a little and appraised the face or the girl who, plainly, wasn't "John's girl" any more.

"Well, now," she temporized, "as to that, Miss, I'll have to think a bit. A man's house is his castle like I used to say in the old days when I was ingenue for Raymond Hitchcock who, I must say, had his pick of ingenues and knew how to do the picking. Of course that was only in comic opera and it was a scene even Hitchcock couldn't put over if I wasn't there to feed him right, but still that's way it is, you know."

Joanna had listened patiently. "But it will be all right," she protested. "John and I haven't any secrets—you see, I'm still John's girl, and always will be, no matter what happens. Although he has another notion just now. This must be a secret from him, your secret and mine, and it's just something I want that he mustn't know about for a little while." She gave the landlady the full benefit of a smile and a pleading from deep brown eyes that were irresistible. Grudgingly the woman gave in, shrugged her angular shoulders and agreed that if, "that's the way it is, I guess it'll be all right. I don't think you'll find any love letters from other girls. Mr. John's not that way with girls."

Joanna opened her handbag and added to the bills which already crumpled in the landlady's hand, left there by the chauffeur, a much larger one. Then she tripped up the stairs to the door through which John had delighted, in the past, occasionally to usher her.

When she crossed the threshold she faltered. For an instant Joanna Mann, girl of mystery and money, was "Miss Twenty-seven" again, violating all the conventions of a more particular age, and stealing in with John to cuddle up on his frayed sofa and listen while he built wonderful structures that reached to the sky as surely as ever did a castle that grew up in Spain. On most of those nights she would have preferred to be out dancing. They were, in a way, her sacrifices. She'd told him, once, that if he'd put his drawing board away and use the big room to practice up on his fox trot he'd make a bigger hit with her.

Joanna brushed this reminiscence away with the back of her hand, passing it petulantly across her forehead. She crossed the room to a huge chest of drawers in which John kept his papers, great sheets of blue print, plans, and tracings.

As if she well knew the contents of those drawers Joanna plunged her gray-gloved fingers directly in among a sheet of papers in a middle drawer. When she brought them out they brought also a big blue square on which there were lines and diagrams in a confusion that many times had wearied her eyes. There were other sheets that were similarly marred, as if they were duplicates on which unfinished alterations had been made. Joanna had chosen one of them, seemingly at random, and appeared to be satisfied.

Ruthlessly, careless of her deadly affront to the smoothness of an architect's drawing she folded the blue print into a minute square and thrust it, crumpled, into her bag. Then she turned back to the door.

Just for a moment she stopped and dropped into a corner of the sofa. She pulled her legs under her and curled up. She patted a place in a cushion and rested her elbow in it and propped her head on her hand. And as if she were talking to someone who sat of stood in front of the drawing board over by the window she murmured softly:

"John dear, you're such a tiresome old thing! I can't get all that stuff straight in my head at all. Why don't you come over and tell me how much you think you love me?"

When she had said this out into the

WOMAN COULD HARDLY WALK

Mrs. Horn Tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health

Hamilton, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and would not be without it now. I had a female trouble so badly I could hardly walk and I was all run-down and could hardly get around to do my housework. I would be in bed three or four days at a time. I was told by a friend to try your Vegetable Compound. I did, and by the time I took two bottles I was beginning to get around again. I took ten bottles in all, and now I am all right again and doing my own work. I have six grown-ups to work for, so I have plenty to do. I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and I think it is good. But I owe my health to the Vegetable Compound, and I think if more of it was used women would be better off. I would not be without it if it cost much more."

Mrs. NELLIE HORN, 28 St. Matthews Avenue, Hamilton, Ontario.

Do you feel broken down, nervous and weak sometimes? Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is excellent to take at such a time. It always helps, and if taken regularly and persistently, will relieve this condition, c-

HUMIDIFY THE AIR IN HEATED DWELLINGS.

Dry air is injurious to health and predisposes to sickness.

Air in artificially heated dwellings is deficient in moisture which is necessary for health and comfort.

Air should contain 50 per cent. of moisture but our overheated dwellings contain but from 25 to 30 per cent.

When outdoor air is heated so as to maintain an even temperature of 70 degrees but without the addition of watery vapor, its capacity for absorbing moisture is very much increased and will extract moisture from surrounding objects; furniture, woodwork and books crack and come apart, living plants wither and die. On humans it extracts moisture from the skin, mucous membrane and respiratory tract causing drying of the skin, irritation of the air passages from loss of moisture by the secretions. It lessens resistance and working efficiency, causes general disturbance, lassitude, cardiac and nervous irritability.

Air deficient in moisture predisposes to pneumonia and bronchial affections and is a common cause of catarrh by causing the minute glands which moisten the air passages to secrete to excess to compensate for the loss by evaporation which, continued, becomes chronic and constitutes catarrh.

Children are very susceptible to dry air, become easily fatigued, apt to have headache and be listless, which interferes with school work.

Dry air is a carrier of dust, particularly when the moisture is less than 30 per cent. Dust is a menace from its irritating properties, from being a carrier of germs, and from the irritation set up making the parts receptive to disease-carrying germs. Dry air, therefore, is detrimental to health from its general effect on the system, from its local effect on the tissues, and from its dust-carrying properties.

The condition is remedied by the evaporation of water in artificially heated dwellings. The water containers in furnaces and stoves are generally too small and apt to be neglected. The more practical way is to evaporate water in shallow pans placed adjacent to radiators and heaters and these, when attended to and kept filled, accomplish excellent results.

Air properly humidified is more profitable and an economic saving in coal. It costs as much to heat a room from 58 to 72 deg. as it does to raise the temperature to 58 on an average cold day.

Humidify the air and have better health, prevent sickness and save coal. —Exchange.

OLDS LOSES CHILDREN'S HOME

Hardly crediting a rumor which had been broadcast around town last week-end, that the management of Wood's Christian Home and all the children were soon to leave Olds, we interviewed Mr. Wood, in the hope that he would deny the circulated rumor. We were, however, doomed to disappointment, for not only did Mr. Wood substantiate the report, but also gave us a detailed description of the recently acquired palatial home at Bowness, near Calgary, which in future will be known as Wood's Christian Home. Mr. and Mrs. Wood have a large family of the province's unfortunate children, and although their removal will be a great loss to Olds, they are looking to the future, and to more accommodation and comfort being available, amid surroundings more ideal.

It is expected that the exodus of the children to their new home will take place shortly, and their departure will be regretted by every Olds citizen, as it has been a delight to most of us to assist in doing our bit to make the children happy and help in the building and maintaining of their present convenient surroundings.

An Age of Opportunity

Occasionally young people of today are heard deploring what they are pleased to term the fact that in these times there are not the same opportunities available for amassing great wealth, or of making a big place for themselves in the world, as was the case fifty, seventy-five or one hundred years ago. They hold the view that conditions which made it possible for a Rockefeller, a Vanderbilt, an Astor in the United States, or a Massey or Timothy Eaton in Canada to lay the foundations of great businesses and accumulate fortunes for themselves and families no longer exist, and that they must perforce remain the servants and employees of others.

These are mere excuses to cover up their own deficiencies, lack of initiative and energy. Those who make such excuses are invariably of the type who are quite unwilling to endure the hardships and perform the long and arduous work which was inseparable from the early years of the men of a few generations ago who laid the foundation for the great successes of which these youthful pessimists of today are envious.

The truth is that in no previous era in the world's history were there as many and as promising opportunities for young men and women as are presented to them today. The trouble is that, too often, the youth of today wants the pleasures and luxuries of success without being willing to first undergo the sacrifices and self-denials through which success can be won. They are impatient of the day of small things, of the slow but gradual building-up process. They demand the impossible—immediate success without effort and arduous labor.

For the earnest, painstaking worker, possessed of initiative and courage, the present is indeed an age of golden opportunities. Present day business fairly teems with examples of astounding successes achieved within the short space of a few years. Just to mention one such example. It is only twenty-five years since the now well known Gillette Safety Razor Co. was formed with the insignificant capital of thirty dollars. Today its paid-up capital stock has a market value of two hundred million dollars. The 51 razors sold in 1903 have grown to a total of 14,862,098 in 1925, while the sale of a mere 14 packets of blades in 1903 increased to 52,983,533 packets in 1925. The Company has paid cash dividends aggregating $31,497,691. What a romance in business in this present century!

The automobile within the same space of time has revolutionized our modes of living, has created scores of multi-millionaires and made Henry Ford the world's wealthiest individual. Within the last half dozen years the radio has come into practical use opening new fields of employment and advancement and wealth for hundreds and thousands of wide-awake enterprising men.

How can anyone think, much less declare, that the day of great opportunities is past and gone? Great as have been the discoveries and developments of the past, the present is even more prolific and promising; the opportunities are vastly greater. The youth of today is, let it be emphasized, living in a golden age of opportunity with possibilities open to him unsurpassed, undreamed of, a couple of generations ago.

Not only so, but the world today is not so skeptical of new ideas and inventions, and the man with an innovation gets a hearing and a chance to demonstrate his plans, where in former years he had to do battle against prejudices and an ultra-conservatism which found expression in open and bitter opposition.

Where not so long ago a young man without position or money had a long, bitter, uphill fight to obtain recognition, today he is given every chance to make good, and if he fails the fault lies largely with himself, or the impracticability of his ideas, and not in the reception accorded him by an eager and progressive world. He is not denied his opportunity to make good; the great difficulty is that so many do not see, or, seeing, fail to grasp the opportunity at their hand.

There are still undeveloped fields of endeavor awaiting ambitious youth just as great with promise as were the unknown spaces of the United States in the first half of the nineteenth century, or in Canada in the years when the Fathers of Confederation dreamed their practical dream of a Dominion stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific and the pioneers first began the task of developing the prairies of the West.

Students Discard Robes

No longer do the students in the prominent school of Egypt all wear the traditional sheik's robes. After a small but significant civil war, they discarded the flowing robes for the modern dress. The minister of education favored the robes and threatened a lockout of students but the students entered class rooms by wearing robes over their modern suits and discarding them while remaining in school.

THE TIRED OUT WOMAN

Needs the Help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to Regain Strength

No mother should allow nervous weakness to get the upper hand of her; if she does worry will mar her work in the home, and torment her in mind and body. The monotony of the average housewife's daily toil is enough to cause depression, but there are other causes, as every mother knows, that tend to weaken and make her nerves run-down. A change and rest might improve her health, but best of all for jaded women is a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills make new blood, rich with the elements on which the body and nerves thrive.

The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when the blood is weak and watery, and the system run-down is shown by the experience of Mrs. C. W. Jackson, R.R. 1, Gilford, Ont., who says: "Before beginning the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was completely run-down and could hardly walk across the floor. As the mother of young children with the usual household duties to perform, my condition was one of seriousness. I had seen Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised and decided to try them. This was a happy decision as I had not been taking the pills very long before I began to feel better both in body and in mind. I continued the use of the pills for a couple of months and now feel like a new woman, able to perform all my household duties. I would not be without the pills in the house and I recommend them to all run-down people."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PARLIAMENT TO ASSEMBLE ON DECEMBER NINTH

Ottawa.—Parliament will be opened on December 9, Hon. J. A. Robb, acting Prime Minister, announced at the conclusion of a meeting of the cabinet. After the formal opening, the Commons will proceed to the election of a speaker on Friday, December 10. There will be an adjournment until Monday, December 12.

"The Government hopes," said Mr. Robb, "that with the cooperation of the official opposition, the speech from the throne can be disposed of in one day. Then the estimates and supplementary estimates will be taken up just as they were left last year."

Mr. Robb expressed the hope that considerable business could be accomplished before the Christmas adjournment. After the adjournment, it is unlikely that Parliament will reassemble before the end of January.

Premier King and Hon. Ernest Lapointe sail from England on December 1 and will be present for the opening. As the part of the session which comes before Christmas will be largely taken up with the speech from the throne and the estimates, the actual details of the sessional legislative program will not have to be dealt with by the cabinet while the Prime Minister and the Minister of Justice are absent. It is understood, however, that Mr. King and Mr. Lapointe have been in close touch with Ottawa by cable from day to day and are fully informed regarding the work of the cabinet.

From Government House comes the announcement that the state dinner and reception which traditionally accompanies the opening of Parliament ceremonies will be held on the evening of Friday, December 19. Owing to the early part of the session being of such short duration, Their Excellencies, the Governor-General and Viscountess Willingdon will hold the Drawing Room early in January.

Appointment Is Confirmed

Hon. Vincent Massey Is Officially Appointed Member to Washington

Ottawa.—Hon. Vincent Massey was appointed Canadian minister to Washington by an order-in-council passed by the cabinet. The announcement was made by Hon. J. A. Robb, acting Prime Minister, to a group of newspapermen. Mr. Massey is in England at the present time with Premier King attending the Imperial Conference in an unofficial capacity.

Russian Children Eating Garbage
Providence, R.I.—More than 200,000 boys are living like scavenger dogs in the streets of Moscow, Russia, according to William W. Patterson, of Pennyan, N.Y., who returned to the U.S. today from Russia and the Near East. These youths eke out an existence by feeding from garbage cans and by sleeping under wagons and in the streets, according to Mr. Patterson.

Canada's Imperial Problem
Montreal.—Canada's imperial problem would be largely solved by the appointment of a political representative of the government in London. England, in the opinion of Prof. P. E. Corbett, formerly in the legal service of the League of Nations, who is now a lecturer in Roman and international law at McGill University.

Prince George to Come to Canada
Ottawa.—Prince George, fourth son of His Majesty the King, is expected in Ottawa on December 4, it was learned here. While in the capital His Royal Highness will be a guest at Government House. Prince George has been serving as a sub-lieutenant in the Royal Navy in Chinese waters. Arrangements are being made for the Prince to cross Canada in a private car.

More Mennonite Settlers For Canada

Thousands Coming From Southern Russia Says Bishop Toews

Winnipeg.—Canada is being seen more than ever as a land of opportunity by the Mennonites, and before the end of the present year nearly 7,000 new settlers from Southern Russia will have made their homes in the Dominion, according to Bishop Toews, president of the Mennonite Colonization Board.

To date 2,500 Mennonites have settled in Canada, and are well established and happy in their adopted country, Bishop Toews said.

The movement of Mennonite settlers to Canada in 1927 will even surpass that of the present year, he added, although definite arrangements have not yet been made. Those who come late this year will suffer no inconvenience in the matter of getting settled. They will spend the winter with their countrymen in their settlements, and in the spring will get lands for themselves.

Bishop Toews intimated the Mennonites saw no attraction in Mexico now.

New Polar Expedition

Dr. Nansen Contemplates Voyage of Discovery by Airplane

Berlin.—Plans for a new polar expedition by airship on strictly scientific lines were set forth by Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, president of the International Society for the Exploration of Arctic Regions, at the opening of the international congress of that body today.

The route contemplates flights, with numerous stops, from Nome, Alaska, by way of the North Pole to Murmansk, Russia or in the opposite direction. The airship will be manned by a crew of 50, the men to work in three shifts.

Dr. Nansen declares that the flights of Byrd and Amundsen over the North Pole were great pioneer deeds, but, from the viewpoint of Arctic exploration, merely preliminary to detailed scientific investigations, necessitating numerous landings, each lasting for hours.

Leaving Earthquake Area

Sufferers Looking for Safer Place to Rebuild Homes

Leninakan, Armenia.—Sufferers of the recent earthquake, despairing of their ability to rebuild their homes, have left for more promising parts of the Caucasus. Earth shocks of moderate intensity have continued for a week past. The authorities fear that if they persist the city shortly will be entirely deserted. With the advent of cold weather, the people are suffering bitterly, having lost everything they possessed.

Final Scene in Royal Wedding
Brussels.—Princess Astrid of Sweden and Crown Prince Leopold of Belgium were united in marriage by a Roman Catholic ceremony in the Cathedral of St. Gudula Nov. 19 and left on their honeymoon for a destination which has been kept strictly secret.

New York.—Harry Houdini, the magician, left his huge collection of books on magic, spiritualism, witchcraft and demonology, said to be worth $500,000, to the Library of Congress in the belief of Leo Rullman, his lawyer, who drew up Houdini's will two years ago.

To Strengthen Act

Winnipeg.—Corrective legislation embodying retroactive provisions to bolster up the Manitoba Rural Credits Act is under consideration by the provincial government. This move is being taken as the result of a judgment in Court of Appeal here against the Rural Credits Society.

May Visit Canada Next Year

London.—Although it has not yet been officially announced, it is understood His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, probably will visit Canada for the Diamond Jubilee celebration next year.

REUNION DINNER OF CANADIANS IS HELD IN LONDON

London.—Premier Mackenzie King attended the reunion dinner held by ex-members of the Canadian expeditionary forces now resident in London. Owing to a previous engagement, however, the Prime Minister was unable to stay throughout the evening.

The dinner, which is held annually on or about Armistice night, was presided over by Major-General Garnet Hughes. Among those attending were Viscount Byng of Vimy, Major-General J. H. MacDrien, chief of the Canadian general staff, General Sir George Milne, chief of the Imperial general staff, General Sir Ian Hamilton and Sir Hamar Greenwood.

Viscount Byng was accorded a volitional reception when he rose to speak. "I have spent five years of wonderful experience and happiness in the Dominion," the viscount said. "I have always preached the same doctrine and I preach it to you as one who has a passionate affection for you and your comrades. I have preached the word 'unity'."

"On the ninth of April, 1917, I saw Canadian unity. I saw men from those fine old battalions of British Columbia shaking hands with men from those fine old battalions of Nova Scotia on top of Vimy Ridge, unconquered and unconquerable, telling each other that every man was as good as another. That ideal of our corps was a fine ideal worth cherishing."

Viscount Byng concluded with a plea for the setting aside of personal ambition and individualism and "working for the same big purpose as you worked with men in those four years."

Choose Canadian Stock

California Rancher Buys Fifteen Head Owned by Prince of Wales

Calgary.—Fifteen head of shorthorn stock owned by the Prince of Wales at his ranch near High River, Alberta, have been purchased by Sheldon and Carruthers, owners of the Kirkwood farm, one of the show ranches of California. This announcement was made by Prof. W. L. Carlyle, manager of the Prince's ranch.

Before deciding on the cattle at the ranch of the Prince of Wales, buyers for the big California ranch visited many herds in the United States. The shipment consists of nine cows and heifers and six yearling bulls, one being a champion at Western fairs this summer.

Fewer Deaths From Tuberculosis

Ottawa.—Canada has reduced its tuberculosis deaths since 1900 from 180 per 100,000 population to less than 80 per 100,000. This shows a reduction of more than 100 deaths per 100,000 people per year accomplished in the last 25 years, or a saving of one death from the disease annually in every 1,000 people or 9,352 lives per year.

Alberta Seed Survey

Will Ascertain Amount of Damage to Seed Caused by Wet Weather

Calgary.—Survey of the entire province has been undertaken by the Dominion seed branch to ascertain the amount of damage the crop has suffered and the quantity of seed that would be available for spring sowing, according to G. M. Stewart, district inspector. A preliminary report will be issued soon. Although there are prominent grain men in Calgary who view the threatened shortage of seed oats seriously, it is generally admitted no definite measure of the quantities available can be made until the crops begin to move more freely. It is admitted that many of the tests for oats for germination have given poor results but it is hoped that these samples do not represent the average condition of the crop. The position in many districts is believed to be bad owing to crop damage by the rains.

May Settle In West

Countess Karolyi, Hungarian Noblewoman Is Banned From U.S.

Montreal.—Countess Karolyi, wife of Hungary's wartime prime minister, who is now in Montreal, will not visit or even attempt to enter the United States, she told newspapermen here.

The countess has dropped her suit now pending in the United States courts against the department of state, asking cause why a visa to enter was denied her. "Secretary of State Kellogg has said that he does not want me or mine. We shall never go where we are not wanted," said the countess.

Countess Karolyi left for Ottawa to interview Government authorities in connection with farms in Western Canada. It is believed that the Karolyis will settle in one of Canada's three prairie provinces.

Committee Struggling With Locarno Treaty

Problem Is Delicate and Little Progress Being Made

London.—The legal committee of the Imperial conference headed by Hon. Ernest Lapointe is still struggling with the Locarno treaty, trying to draft a memorandum on the subject for future guidance in such cases, but apparently has made little progress because of the delicacy of the problem and the falling among the delegates to agree upon the exact wording of the memorandum.

It can be taken for granted, however, that as a result of the delegates' deliberations, the British government will be far more circumspect in signing any future treaty like Locarno although they feel that the result of getting Germany into the League justifies the treaty entirely.

England's First Woman Sheriff

Southampton, Eng.—The first woman ever to be appointed a sheriff in England has been chosen here. She is Mrs. Lucia Welch. The new appointee will be forced to attend any execution which may occur during her tenure of office.

TO ENCOURAGE IMMIGRATION OF FARM WORKERS

London.—When the new agreement between the Canadian and British governments and the Atlantic transportation companies for the continuance of the £3 ($14.55) fare for emigrants from Great Britain to Canada is finally concluded it is not likely that any radical extensions will be made in the classification of the emigrants coming under its provisions.

The existing agreement which will expire at the end of this year is limited roughly to bona fide intending farm workers and domestic servants. It is understood representations have been made that Canada should extend the scope of the agreement to include certain classes of industrial workers, but it is unlikely such a course will be followed.

The position taken by Canada's representative here, it is understood, is that an extension of the agreement to include industrial workers would probably result in the migration of such workers beyond the Dominion's power of absorption.

While the precise terms of the new agreement are unlikely to vary much from the existing agreement with regard to classifications, it is hoped additional arrangements will be made under which the migration of intending farm workers will be encouraged.

The British Government has trafficking farms for intending farm worker emigrants. These farms take men of no agricultural experience and fit them for farm work. The original course of six months has been found too long and expensive for the handling of any considerable number of men and has been reduced to four months.

It is expected by this and other modifications in the training course that the migration of bona fide intending farm workers to Canada will be stimulated.

Canada's Death Rate Falling

People Living Longer Because Statistical Information Is Available

Ottawa.—Canada is fighting disease with figures. Experts say they are winning, that the death rate among infants and from cancer and tuberculosis is being gradually reduced. The Dominion now has a uniform system of vital statistics.

Until quite recently each province had a different system. New Brunswick had no system at all and no vital statistics were compiled except by the cities of St. John, Moncton and Fredericton. In Quebec the records were kept by the churches, Roman Catholic and Protestant. This had been the method for 300 years, and the civil authorities were loathe to meddle. Quebec has now joined the other provinces, and will have the best statistics in Canada.

People are living longer because statistical information is available, which shows the doctors precisely what they have to combat. Mr. Coates, Dominion statistician, is assisted in this department by E. S. MacPhail, superintendent of compilation, and W. R. Tracey, who recently made a trip by courtesy of the health sections of the League of Nations, to Geneva, Berlin, The Hague, Paris and British cities for the purpose of studying the collection of vital statistics in those centres.

Rock Slide Causes Alarm

Prince Rupert, B.C.—The enormous rock crest of Glacier Mountain near Alice Arm in the Portland Canal district, recently became dislodged and crashed down the mountainside, making the people in the territory think an earthquake had occurred, according to word received here. The shock could be felt for miles around and caused dishes to fall from shelves in a number of cabins.

Wants to Share With Britain

London.—It is reported here that Italy had demanded a share in the Russian oil monopoly sought by British finance in return for a loan to the Soviet government. Italy proposes to share in the loan and also in the reciprocal benefits obtained from Russia, or else issue an additional loan and take the monopoly on Russian oil sales to the world trade outside the British empire.

Canadian Course Lures Hagen

Langara Golf Course Club House. (Inset) Walter Hagen.

Walter Hagen, former British Open Golf Champion and winner for three years of the Professional Golf Association trophy, will soon be seen in action on the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's new course, Langara, situated at South Vancouver. Far for the course is 72 and Hagen is looking forward keenly to lowering the par figures. The Langara course, which is admittedly one of the finest public courses on the Pacific Coast, was built recently by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company at a cost of over $160,000 and has an average length of 350 yards for each hole. One of the features of the course which has particularly excited Hagen's interest is the abnormal size of the greens, which measure in aggregate approximately five and one half acres.

Walter Steedman, golfing editor of the Seattle Post Intelligencer, is expected to be present at the test and intends besides to review fully the various fine golf courses of Vancouver and Victoria.

H. E. Roppel, pastor

The illustrated lantern lecture, including the choir and orchestra music last Friday evening, October 12th was enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience. About 350 people were in attendance, consisting of a proportionate representation of most of the churches in the town and community. A good offering was also given by the people in aid of the Bible society work in Africa.

The Didsbury choir took a trip over to Westcott Evangelical church last Sunday afternoon to assist in the Harvest Home Thanksgiving service. They rendered two very able and inspiring choir selections which were much appreciated by the audience. A trio from the Mennonite Bible school was also one of the favors of the occasion.

A pack of 100 new scripture text calendars for 1927 have just come to hand. They are the prettiest yet. These were ordered because of the many requests for them last Christmas and they may now be bought from any of our Jr. League members or from the pastor.

KNOX AND WESTCOTT UNITED CHURCH

"Health, Character and Religion" is the subject chosen by the minister for Sunday, November 21st.

Health has a very great deal to do with the management of life, our own and other people's. Undue strain tells upon the physique even of the strongest. A sensible attention to the details of health is a religious duty, and for the sake of our work we must learn to regulate our physical habits, to manage our body, to keep it in proper train for due service of God and man by attending to things which appear rather trivial and beneath the notice of even some highly spiritual persons. They are not trivial; they determine the character and the balance of our life. The range of religious duty covers even the honest care of our bodily health and there must be in the Christian ethic a conscience for the body as well as for the soul.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

Rev. W. P. Freeman, director of Baptist Sunday School and Young People's Work in Alberta and British Columbia, will be the speaker at all our services next Sunday, November 21st. Mr. Freeman is a former pastor of First Baptist Church, Victoria, B.C., and is a forceful and exceedingly interesting speaker. He will address himself more especially to the young people. Whether you are young or old however, don't fail to hear him.

Don't forget the hours of service: Zella school house at 11.00 a.m., Elkton school house at 8.30 p.m., Westcott Baptist church at 8.00 p.m.

Jutland.

Last Saturday evening about 65 young folks, members of the W.C.T.U. and members of the Women's Institute, met at the home of Mrs. C. R. Liesemer who is the president of the W. C. T. U. of the Jutland local and also tutor. The occasion was a surprise on her on account of her departure here. The evening was spent in playing of games until midnight, when a hearty lunch was served, after which the friends were ushered into the parlor and the following address was read by Mr. C. Mardon:

November 18th, 1926.

Mrs. C. R. Liesemer, President W.C.T.U.

We, the friends, neighbors, members of the W.C.T.U., and Women's Institute, take this occasion to present you with this, a little token of our esteem and appreciation of the valuable work you have performed for our cause, whilst in our midst. Whilst regretting the fact that you are leaving us we sincerely hope that the change will be beneficial to you and that ere long you will return to us healthy and strong, ready again to take up the good work just where you left off.

I, the undersigned take this means of thanking my many friends and neighbors and sister members of the W.C.T.U. and Women's Institute for their kindness and remembrance.

Mrs. C. R. Liesemer.
